St. Anne's School

February, 2008

Happy Valentine's Day St. Anne's students and families!

Despite hearing that the groundhog's prediction of six more weeks of winter are on its way, the cold weather hasn't seemed to downshift the pace around St. Anne's. Lent began with Ash Wednesday services and preparation for Easter is upon us. Students in technology are wrapping up Valentine's Day and President's Day projects and after the long weekend classes will partake in Lent and Easter projects, including reflection writing and creative cards.

All grade levels are advancing their abilities on the keyboard, especially the younger grades (kindergarten and first grade). They have really accomplished many leaps and bounds since the beginning of the school year and I am very pleased with their progress.

The fifth grade and sixth grade class has been working on their science biomes for Mrs. Adams and slowly, but surly they are turning out wonderful!

March Madness is right around the corner with prep tournament action and the NCAA basketball tournament! I can't wait! I know that it will be the topic of discussion on various days as there are numerous fifth and sixth graders that are always interested in sports! Oh, and MLB spring training is near, and that has to mean that spring isn't far behind! As the time draws closer for these events, I will be sure to come up with a project we can celebrate the season in technology!

Many blessings for you and your family during the Easter season and my God bless you with health and happiness as we wait for the return of our Savior. Have a wonderful long weekend, stay safe!

Ground Hog Day

By Adam McDonald

Well, as we all know, last year on Friday, February 2, the ground hog saw his shadow and there was suppose to be six more weeks of winter. I think that the old tale is not true because the snow started to melt the first week in February and it was spring. I think the ground hog will see its shadow again this year and Bill Murray will wake up again to the same song and the same people until he understands what ground hog day means.
